

CONTENTS

List of Contributors

Preface

Part One	The Representation of Differences between “We” and “Others” on the Eve of Colonial Rule	1
I	NISHIO Kanji, Political Strategy for Coexistence in Multi-Ethnic Societies: The Concept of Orang Melayu in the 18 th Century Johor-Riau Sultanate	3
II	WATANABE Yoshinari, Ethnic Policy towards Various “Peoples” in the Early Konbaung Dynasty: Ethnic Awareness in Eighteenth to Nineteenth Century Burma	27
III	SHIMAO Minoru, The Sinification of the Vietnamese Village: Family Genealogy and Ancestral Hall	54
Part Two	The Development of Mass Media and Transformation of Colonial Society	85
IV	FUKAMI Sumio, Indonesia in 1913: The Social Background to the Deportation of Three Indische Partij Leaders	87
V	HIROSUE Masashi, The Changing Intermediary Role of Indonesian Concubines between the Local and European Communities at the Turn of the Twentieth Century	114
Part Three	Rediscovery of the Self-Identity and the Importance of Local Education	139
VI	ARAI Kazuhiro, The Human Network surrounding an Arab Religious Figure in Southeast Asia who Appears in the Literature: The Case of ‘Abd Allāh b. Muḥsin al-‘Aṭṭās in Bogor	141

VII	SAKURAI Yumio, Trường Giáo Xuyên, or the School of Teacher Xuyên: French-style Education in a Village in Northern Vietnam during the 1930s	158
-----	--	-----

	Index	187
--	-------	-----

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

Japanese names are given using the surname first.

ARAI Kazuhiro	Assistant Professor, Keio University
FUKAMI Sumio	Professor, Momoyama Gakuin University
HIROSUE Masashi	Professor, Rikkyo University
NISHIO Kanji	Professor, National Defense Academy of Japan
SAKURAI Yumio	Professor Emeritus, The University of Tokyo
SHIMAO Minoru	Associate Professor, Keio University
WATANABE Yoshinari	Associate Professor, Okayama University